

Choosing a Sentence with Antonym of the Given Word Part 2

---

Choose a sentence that uses an antonym of the underlined word.

1. Bob felt an instant change in the temperature when it started to rain.

- Bob felt a rapid change in the temperature when it started to rain.
- Bob felt a slow change in the temperature when it started to rain.
- Bob felt an immediate change in the temperature when it started to rain.

2. Roger was distressed about the situation at his job.

- Roger was calm about the situation at his job.
- Roger was anxious about the situation at his job.
- Roger was upset about the situation at his job.

3. Fred wanted to capture the raccoon who had been eating his tomato plants.

- Fred wanted to trap the raccoon who had been eating his tomato plants.
- Fred wanted to catch the raccoon who had been eating his tomato plants.
- Fred wanted to release the raccoon who had been eating his tomato plants.

4. The Meyer family felt that they had sufficient firewood for the winter.

- The Meyer family felt that they had enough firewood for the winter.
- The Meyer family felt that they had satisfactory firewood for the winter.
- The Meyer family felt that they had insufficient firewood for the winter.

5. Over the years, my grandfather had acquired a lot of wisdom.

- Over the years, my grandfather had acquired a lot of ignorance.
- Over the years, my grandfather had acquired a lot of experience.
- Over the years, my grandfather had acquired a lot of intelligence.

6. Jane felt a lot of concern about the hurricane that was coming.

- Jane felt a lot of worry about the hurricane that was coming.
- Jane felt a lot of interest about the hurricane that was coming.
- Jane felt a lot of apathy about the hurricane that was coming.

7. It is easy to get confused when driving in a strange town.

- It is easy to get baffled when driving in a strange town.
- It is easy to get perplexed when driving in a strange town.
- It is easy to get clear headed when driving in a strange town.

8. Jonas was an amateur detective.

- Jonas was a beginner detective.
- Jonas was an apprentice detective.
- Jonas was a professional detective.

9. The glass shattered when it hit the floor.

- The glass broke when it hit the floor.
- The glass exploded when it hit the floor.
- The glass mended when it hit the floor.

10. In spite of all his troubles, Pablo was merry.

- In spite of all his troubles, Pablo was depressed.
- In spite of all his troubles, Pablo was contented.
- In spite of all his troubles, Pablo was happy.