

Change Run-ons into Complete Sentence Part 2 (Answer Sheet)

1. Katie cleaned up the toys. Sam put his clothes away.
Katie cleaned up the toys, and Sam put his clothes away.
Katie cleaned up the toys; Sam put his clothes away.
Katie cleaned up the toys; meanwhile, Sam put his clothes away.
While Katie cleaned up the toys, Sam put his clothes away.
2. There is a black cat in those bushes. I heard it meow.
There is a black cat in those bushes, and I heard it meow.
here is a black cat in those bushes; I heard it meow.
There is a black cat in those bushes; moreover I heard it meow.
There is a black cat in those bushes because I heard it meow.
3. The phone was ringing. Aunt Angela answered it.
The phone was ringing, and Aunt Angela answered it.
The phone was ringing; Aunt Angela answered it.
The phone was ringing; so, Aunt Angela answered it.
Because the phone was ringing, Aunt Angela answered it.
4. Science is not interesting. I like art class.
Science is not interesting, but I like art class.
Science is not interesting; I like art class.
Science is not interesting; however, I like art class.
While science is not interesting, I like art class.
5. My mom came to pick me up at practice. She was late.
My mom came to pick me up at practice, but she was late.
My mom came to pick me up at practice; she was late.
My mom came to pick me up at practice; however, she was late.
When my mom came to pick me up at practice, she was late.
6. Sarah helped her grandmother clean the house. She dusted the furniture.
Sarah helped her grandmother clean the house, and she dusted the furniture.
Sarah helped her grandmother clean the house; she dusted the furniture.
Sarah helped her grandmother clean the house; so, she dusted the furniture.
When Sarah helped her grandmother clean the house, she dusted the furniture.
7. Dad washed the car on Saturday. He mowed the lawn.
Dad washed the car on Saturday, and he mowed the lawn.
Dad washed the car on Saturday; he mowed the lawn.
Dad washed the car on Saturday; also, he mowed the lawn.
When Dad washed the car on Saturday, he mowed the lawn too.
8. Mrs. Smith gave us math homework. I did it at school.
Mrs. Smith gave us math homework, but I did it at school.
Mrs. Smith gave us math homework; I did it at school.
Mrs. Smith gave us math homework; however, I did it at school.
Though Mrs. Smith gave us math homework, I did it at school.
9. Our club is going to eat pizza. I like pepperoni.
Our club is going to eat pizza, and I like pepperoni.
Our club is going to eat pizza; I like pepperoni.
Our club is going to eat pizza; moreover, I like pepperoni.

If our club is going to eat pizza, I like pepperoni.

10. I saw a rabbit outside. The dog chased it.

I saw a rabbit outside, and the dog chased it.

I saw a rabbit outside; the dog chased it.

I saw a rabbit outside; however, the dog chased it.

I saw a rabbit outside before the dog chased it.

11. There was a rainstorm at our house. The front yard was flooded.

There was a rainstorm at our house, and the front yard was flooded.

There was a rainstorm at our house; the front yard was flooded.

There was a rainstorm at our house; therefore, the front yard was flooded.

After there was a rainstorm at our house, the front yard was flooded.

12. The concert is tomorrow night. I have to wear a black dress.

The concert is tomorrow night, and I have to wear a black dress.

The concert is tomorrow night; I have to wear a black dress.

The concert is tomorrow night; so, I have to wear a black dress.

Because the concert is tomorrow night, I have to wear a black dress.

13. The bus was late this morning. I missed breakfast.

The bus was late this morning, so I missed breakfast.

The bus was late this morning; I missed breakfast.

The bus was late this morning; therefore, I missed breakfast.

Because the bus was late this morning, I missed breakfast.

14. I do not want to read a book. I want to play a game.

I do not want to read a book, but I want to play a game.

I do not want to read a book; I want to play a game.

I do not want to read a book; instead, I want to play a game.

Although I do not want to read a book, I want to play a game.

15. Write your name on the paper. You have ten minutes to take the quiz.

Write your name on the paper, and you have ten minutes to take the quiz.

Write your name on the paper; you have ten minutes to take the quiz.

Write your name on the paper; then, you have ten minutes to take the quiz.

After you write your name on the paper, you have ten minutes to take the quiz.